MODULE 1: MONEY

SCRIPT FOR TRAINER

Introduction (10 Minutes)

Script for Trainer (corresponding PowerPoint Presentation Module 1: Money)

My name is _____. Welcome to our Financial Wellness Training.

Today, we are going to discuss money! Money is a key aspect of building optimal financial wellness.

How many of you like money?

Overview, Purpose and Expected Outcomes (10 Minutes)

Script for Trainer (corresponding PowerPoint Presentation Module 1)

Today, we are going to talk about what money is, why we need it, how we get it and how to create good money habits to help us achieve the financial goals we set for ourselves. As we all know, money is very important to each of us in everyday life, and it is required for the necessities in our lives. Money is also essential to achieve the goals we set for ourselves and to buy things we may want to purchase.

The objectives for our training today include the following:

- We will talk about what money is and how we get it.
- We will define assets.
- We will discuss why we need money and learn what it means to budget.

PowerPoint Presentation (30 Minutes)

Script for Trainer (corresponding PowerPoint Presentation Module 1)

What is money?

Money is something (such as coins or bills) we use as a way to pay for things and services and something we use to pay people for their work.

Activity #1

Start by asking the group: “What do we need money for in everyday life?”

[Trainer asks the group and makes a list on the easel pad.]

Examples might be...

- Food
- Clothes
- Transportation
- Home
- Movies
- Video games

Have a discussion with the group about what money is used for in everyday life. Money is how we buy things to eat and to wear. It’s also what we need to have a home and get from one place to another.

These are examples of expenses. Expenses are items we spend money on to have or use. Expenses can include fixed expenses such as rent or a car payment and flexible expenses may include things like groceries or gas for our car.

Homework Review

Now that we understand what money is and what we spend our money on, let’s review your homework assignment – Spending Diary. Who would like to share items they spent money on yesterday? Ask for examples for each day.

Needs versus wants

Now let’s talk about needs versus wants.

Activity #2

Now that we have identified items we buy, let’s identify which items are needs and which are wants and why we think so.

Needs

There are things we have to pay for every month, like food, transportation, rent, electricity, phone and more.

Wants

Then there are things we pay for that we enjoy, like video games, movies, music and more. Sometimes, we don’t have all the money we would like to pay for everything we want. This is when we must determine what our needs truly are and our wants.

How are some different ways we get money?

[Trainer can allow participants to call out different ways they get money and confirm on the next slide.]

Money = Income

- Supplemental Security Income (SSI)/Social Security Disability Income (SSDI)
- Gifts
- Earn money through a job

What are some ways we can earn more money and increase our present income?

We know the more education, experience and skills you have, the more money you will be paid at a job.

- Go to school for a higher level of learning or an advanced degree.
- Gain experience or additional skills in different areas at your current job.
- Identify a career or type of job you want to do and then develop the skills needed for that type of work.

Each of these may lead to a promotion at your current job or lead you to a better job making more money.

Defining Assets

What are assets? Assets are the items we own that have value.

Which of these do you think are assets?

- House
- Money
- Education
- Car

Examples include the following:

- Money you have in the bank
- Cash on hand
- Securities (shares, retirement accounts, other investments)
- Property you own
- A home or business
- Car or other type of vehicle
- Furniture and appliances
- Miscellaneous items (jewelry, cars, etc.)
- Whatever is owed to you
- Education and work experience

Why is the development of assets important to people with disabilities? Assets provide greater financial wellness and independence. Assets improve our community participation and our quality of life. Assets enable us to pay our bills for longer when our earnings are less for a period of time. Overall, assets help us to build our financial wellness.

Activity #3

Who influences how we think about and manage our money?

[The trainer should take a few minutes to ask the students think about their first experience with money. How did they get it? What did they do with it? Who influenced how they used it or saved it?]

Why do we need money?

Now that have talked about what money is, what we spend money on, how we earn money and what assets are, we have a better understanding of why we need money.

Activity #4

In our last session, we identified our American Dream. Let's review our American Dreams.

[Trainer should also distribute the Money Savings Goal worksheet now].

Let us look at what it would cost to make at least one of these goals come true.

[Trainer should have the students reflect on their American Dream and what it would cost to make this dream a reality. Ask the students to figure out how much they would have to save each week over a certain amount of time to make this dream a reality.]

My American Dream Vision Board (30 minutes)

Activity #5

Trainer should explain to the participants that they are going to create their very own American Dream Vision Board. The trainer should have completed their own vision board to share with students along with pictures included in the PowerPoint as samples.

Explain the principles of the vision board. The My American Dream Activity...

- Provides an opportunity for individuals to define their American Dream
- Provides the opportunity to create a vision board to help see your dream
- Builds knowledge over the remaining weeks
- Explores creativity in developing a dream board

Making Connections in Your Community: Guest Speaker (15 minutes)

Trainer will introduce the speaker. Examples include a representative from the State Treasurer's Office or a financial institution to discuss money.

Speaker will have 10 minutes and follow the proposed outline:

1. Where does money (currency) come from?
2. How is money protected?
3. What is the purpose of your organization?

Allow five minutes for questions.

Homework Assignment and Wrap-Up (10 Minutes)

Trainer should take the time here to review the budget worksheet.

Complete the "My Spending Plan" worksheet, listing all the money you earn (income) on the left-hand side, and add up to write a sum at the bottom. On the right-hand side, write down all the areas in which you spend money. Again, add up all your expenses in this column and write the sum at the bottom. Not all the lines have to be filled in; only complete what is relevant to you.

Evaluation and Closing (5 minutes)

Trainer should thank the participants for participating in today's training and congratulate them on first steps toward improving their financial wellness.

REMINDER: Be sure to have the participants complete the second half of the evaluation and collect.
